FORMER NFL PLAYER SAVES MAN FROM A FIERY TRAIN CRASH

Brandon Bair, a former NFL player, recently did something even more extraordinary than playing for the NFL. He rescued a man from certain death who was trapped in his truck after colliding with a train.

Bair was driving in Idaho when he saw a train run into a semi-truck. This accident triggered an almost immediate explosion. Bair called 911, but instead of waiting for help to arrive, he sprung into action when he heard a voice coming from inside the truck. He ran up to the window and saw flames inside with a man who could not free himself from his seatbelt.

Brandon Bair freed the man from his seatbelt, then climbed in and pulled 25-year-old Steven Jenson through the rear window to safety. Just seconds after walking away, the whole truck was engulfed in flames. Steven Jenson will be forever grateful to Brandon Bair for saving his life.

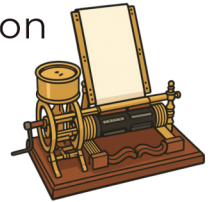

TODAY IN HISTORY

JADEN SMITH FEEDS HOMELESS IN HIS NEW RESTAURANT

Jaden Smith has been known for his many philanthropic acts. This generosity continues by opening a new restaurant, which provides free and healthy meals for homeless individuals.

This particular restaurant is an expansion of Jaden's I Love You food truck initiative. The healthy meals provided to the homeless are subsidized by people who can pay for their meals and individuals willing to pay extra for their meals. Customers who pay more know their generosity benefits individuals who can't afford to pay for their meals.

Jaden states that his I Love You restaurant "is a movement that is all about giving people what they deserve; healthy, vegan food for free." He even hinted that there might be more food trucks coming.

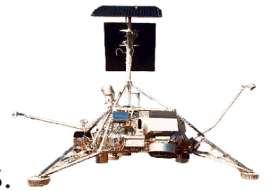

TODAY IN HISTORY

1935: Babe Ruth retired after 22 seasons and 714 home runs.

1966: Surveyor 1 made the first U.S. soft Moon landing and relayed photos.

INTERESTING FACT

Capsaicin is the ingredient in chili peppers that makes them hot. Capsaicin is used in medicated creams to relieve muscle or joint pain.

HAPPY-HEARTY-LAUGH

HURRICANE-RESISTANT "FLOATING SOLAR FARM" SHOWS PROMISE

Solar power is one of the ultimate renewable energy sources. SolarDuck's revolutionary floating solar power platform is helping to propel the green revolution.

These unique floating solar power structures, designed by SolarDuck, can generate considerable energy. An added benefit is that they are entirely offshore, which frees up valuable land. In addition, these systems have been built to withstand incredibly harsh conditions. For example, they can withstand hurricane-force winds that would usually wreak havoc on most structures.

There's a great deal of potential in this innovative structure. SolarDuck has plans to unveil an even larger system in the future, and we anticipate seeing its capabilities.

TODAY IN HISTORY

1965: Ed White became the first American astronaut to walk in space.

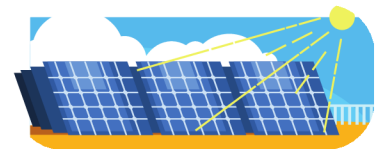

1985: The talk show Larry King Live debuted on CNN.

INTERESTING FACT

The largest solar power plant in the world is located in the Mojave Desert and takes up roughly a thousand acres.

HAPPY-HEARTY-LAUGH

Why are solar panels so trustworthy?

Because they never work in the shadows.

DID YOU KNOW?

A solar power plant can last up to 50 years with very little maintenance compared to other energy sources.

"A transition to clean energy is about making an investment in our future."

3D PRINTING ALLOWS BOY TO HOLD ITEMS IN HIS HAND

Imagine a machine that “prints” a hand by stacking thin layers of plastic, just like a home printer lays down ink. That is the power of 3-D printing, and it has brought new possibilities to 11-year-old Gavin Sumner of Clarksville, Tennessee.

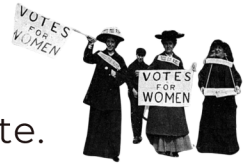

Gavin was born without fingers, a left foot, and much of his tongue, so simple tasks such as holding a book or tossing a ball were beyond reach. Engineers designed a lightweight plastic prosthetic that slips on like a glove and bends when he flexes his wrist, giving him a working grip for the very first time in his life.

When Gavin picked up a toy all by himself, his mother said his expression was “pure wonder.” The device costs only a fraction of traditional prosthetics and can be reprinted as he grows.

TODAY IN HISTORY

1919: Congress passes the 19th Amendment, giving women the right to vote.

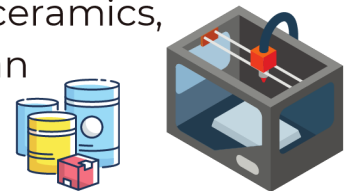

1984: Bruce Springsteen released Born in the U.S.A.

INTERESTING FACT

Many different materials, such as titanium, ceramics, and wood, can be used for 3D printing.

HAPPY-HEARTY-LAUGH

How do you make a 4D printer?

Take a 3D printer and just give it some time!

DID YOU KNOW?

With advances in 3D printing technology, it is possible to 3D print food.

"I believe in the near future we will 3D print our buildings and houses."

BRAVE FLORIDA MAN WRESTLES ALLIGATOR TO SAVE HIS DOG

Florida resident Mike McCoy was walking Jake, his 8-month-old Labrador, near their favorite pond. Shockingly, an alligator sprung out of the water and attacked Jake. Many people would panic in a situation like this and would be paralyzed. Fortunately, this wasn't the case for Mike, as he had just read an article and knew how to deal with such an occurrence. He quickly positioned himself around the alligator, thumbed him in the eye, and picked him out of the water until he let Jake go.

Unbelievably, after this dangerous event, both Mike and his dog could walk away without significant injuries and only needed a few stitches to get back to normal. The bond between a man and his beloved dog is special, and after this terrifying event, their bond is even stronger. We're happy Mike was prepared and knew exactly what to do to save his dog's life!

TODAY IN HISTORY

1956: Elvis Presley first performs the song, "Hound Dog" live on television.

1968: Robert F. Kennedy is fatally shot in Los Angeles.
